Newsletter Summer Term 2019

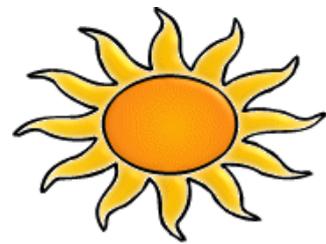

Hello Everyone.

Here's some up-dates for the rest of the summer term.

On Wednesday 3rd July, The Tempest photographer will be visiting pre-school to take individual photos from 9.30 am. All pre-school children are invited to take part. Children who will be leaving us this term to go into Primary will be able to have their photo taken dressed in Graduation attire i.e. Mortarboard hat, gown and a scroll to hold.

We have many new and exciting ideas in the pipeline this term, including, growing tomatoes and strawberries.

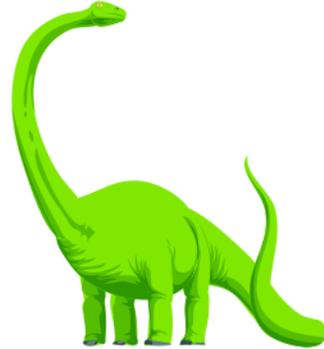

Sun Protection

As we head into summer, we need to consider the ever-present risk of sun burn. Children's sensitive skin can burn even when the sun does not seem very strong. This summer we ask parents once again to tick the column on the signing-in sheet to indicate that your child has had sun cream applied.

Alternatively, you may leave sun cream marked with your child's name on the desk in the foyer, which we can apply. This does, however, impact on how quickly we get outside, so if you can apply the cream yourself at the beginning of the day, it's much better. We are happy to top-up in the afternoon if necessary. Please also provide named sun hats. Thanks!

We are in the process of enhancing our Out-door Play area, which will involve the use of large artificial granite rocks to make a small world area. This will enable us to make a prehistoric area of the garden.
(These rocks were kindly given to us by a Halesworth man who explained he was given them from the recent film set of 'The Kid Who Would be king')

We are in the process of gathering ideas for our Pre-school summer trip, but plans are in the early stages. Further details will follow as term goes on.

A huge thanks to Chelle and Mark (Kaden and Kian's parents) for their continuous fund-raising, selling items no longer needed. The total amount they have raised so far is in excess of £800! Please keep the donated items for sale coming in.

What you may view as junk is often a sought-after item for someone else.

Thanks once again for this massive achievement, and for the beautiful planters on the steps at the side of the village hall.

That's all folks! (for now)
Best wishes
Anna, Craig and Elizabeth
